WHY NEW MEXICO

New Mexico is the right U.S. location for your business. The state's unique competitive advantages are not going unnoticed; as a result, it continues to attract the most sophisticated and recognized companies from around the globe.

New Mexico provides a high-quality and productive workforce with expertise in everything from cutting edge science and engineering, to business and finance, manufacturing, logistics, and a host of other skills.

It's home to world class scientific research institutions and universities, robust international trade, extraordinary culture, and extensive rail, road, and air infrastructure, all within a state that is affordable, pro-business, and which lacks natural disasters. The State has actively developed its workforce and business climate to fit the needs of growing industries, and it shows.

Foreign Direct Investment in New Mexico has helped to support over 18,100 jobs throughout the state in 2019. The state provides a diverse cultural climate and key assistance and support programs for incoming foreign companies. New Mexico also has a rich history of family-owned and operated small and mid-sized businesses that have found success within the state, showing that the state's advantages are not exclusive to large sized businesses.

SOME KEY INDUSTRY SECTORS
